Khrushchev Extended Invitation

Ike May 'Consider' Soviet Union Visit

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower would consider visiting Russia if future developments indicate it would serve the cause of peace.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty made the statement in commenting on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's invitation to Eisenhower Thursday to come to the Soviet Union.

But Hagerty stressed that Eisenhower has no present plans to go there.

The press secretary earlier had declined comment on the Khrushchev invitation, extended informally in a speech by the Kremlin leader at the Moscow 21st congress of the Communist party.

But today Hagerty volunteered this statement at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters:

"Premier Khrushchev's invitation to President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union occurred in a lengthy speech which contained very hostile references to United States leaders.

"It seems strange that Premier Khrushchev, if he really welcomes a visit by the President, would extend it in such circumstances.

"The President had no present plans to make such a visit — in fact he hasn't received any invitation except through the reports of an off-hand invitation extended in a political speech.

"Ever since he has been in office, President Eisenhower has always made it clear that he was willing to go anywhere in the world if, by so doing, such a visit would serve the cause of peace.

"Should future developments suggest that a visit to the Soviet Union or anywhere else would serve to advance this cause, then it certainly would be considered."

Congress Wants Integration Push

Little Support Eyed For Group's Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress members favoring throwing the full power of the government behind the Supreme Court's school integration ruling today found little official help outside their own group.

Neither the administration nor Democratic leaders were ready to lend a strong helping hand for such a full-scale push.

President Eisenhower did not recommend this course of action Thursday when he submitted a seven-point civil rights program to Congress.

Legislation proposed earlier by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas similarly makes no provision for forcing compliance with the court's 1954 decision that racial segregation in the schools is unconstitutional.

Advocates of stronger measures contend that essential to an effective civil rights program is authority for the attorney general to initiate court actions to bring about school integration.

New York City Shifts Blame For Air Crash

NEW YORK (AP)—A city agency says the federal government is responsible for delay in safety improvements at La Guardia Field, destination of an American Airlines plane which crashed into the East River Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the Port Authority of New York, which operates La Guardia, said Thursday the authority has been ready for three years to build a pier off Runway 22 to provide approach lights for aircraft.

American's prop-jet Flight 320 undershot Runway 22 and crashed into the water. Sixty-five persons died. Three crew members landed safely.

The authority spokesman, who asked not to be identified, further commented: "The entire responsibility for establishing navigation and safety aids rests with the Federal Aviation Agency."

In Washington Thursday night an FAA spokesman said an instrument landing system for the East River approach to Runway 22 had been authorized and on order since July 1, 1957. He said it takes 18 months to two years to get the needed apparatus assembled, adding that delivery had been promised for October of this year.

Three bodies were found Thursday in the tail section of the crashed airliner, brought up from the river bottom. That brought to 25 the number of bodies recovered.

As investigators looked into all phases of what could have caused the crash, Edward Slattery Jr. of

3 Air Force Crashes Kill At Least 5

By The Associated Press

Three Air Force planes crashed Thursday, killing at least five men. A futile air-and-sea search of the Atlantic continued for an Air Force weather plane.

The accidents brought the total of air fatalities for the week to a minimum of 87. Thirteen persons are missing, 12 of them aboard the weather plane. Worst of the crashes was that of an American Airlines plane which plunged into the East River at New York Tuesday night, killing 65.

Three civilians testing an Air Force Flying Boxcar C119 were killed when the plane crashed and caught fire at the edge of San Francisco Bay. The plane was on a test flight. Killed were M. L. Vinson, 46, the pilot; C. W. Clapp, 49; and Russell Hansen, 44. A twin-jet F89 fighter crashed on a high ridge 25 miles southwest of Great Falls, Mont., killing one of its two crewmen. The other man is missing. Names were withheld.

The jet was on a routine training flight from Malmstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls.

Store Manager Fined Here Under 'Blue Law'

Saul Moss, manager of the Castle Furniture Co., entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of keeping a business open on Sunday at a hearing in Mayor Harold Smith's court Thursday but was found guilty and fined $25 and costs.

The charge was filed by City Solicitor James D. Primm following a complaint by the Retail Merchants Division of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bernard Kaplan of Warren, president of the Castle Furniture Co., appeared to testify on the behalf of the defendant.

This was the first case here involving the state's seldom enforced "blue law" for a number of years.

Russian Pilots Hit Plane With 17 Aboard

WASHINGTON (AP)—The graffiti terrifying words: "The target is burning. I will finish him off," echoed on Capitol Hill today with shocked demands for stepped-up defense programs.

The words, the State Department says, were those of Soviet jet pilots shooting down an unarmed U.S. transport plane.

At least 6, possibly 17, American airmen died in the fiery crash Sept. 2 of the unarmed C130 transport near the border between Turkey and Soviet Armenia.

The plane admittedly had wandered across the border and over Soviet territory, but the State Department expressed a suspicion the crew may have been misled by Soviet radio signals.

State Department officials Thursday disclosed they have a graphic recording of harsh, barking voices they said were those of Soviet pilots sending the plane into its death plunge. An English translation was made public.

Absolutely Authentic

The department said the recording was absolutely authentic but would not say where it came from.

The recording appeared to have caught First Dep. Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan uncomfortably in the center of the big lie approach to diplomacy. He brushed off several inquiries about the plane on his recent visit here and treated it as a routine crash.

The Russians turned over the bodies of six crewmen a short time after the crash but have consistently denied any knowledge of the 11 other airmen aboard the plane.

U.S. Secretary Dulles Calls on French Leaders

Britons Approve of Macmillan's Choice To Visit Russia

PARIS (AP) — Allied preparations to counter the Soviet Union's Berlin threat picked up speed today as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met with French leaders and British Prime Minister Macmillan made plans for his Moscow trip.

Diplomats in Paris said Dulles in the second stop of his listening tour would find the French determined to preserve Western unity in dealing with Moscow on Germany.

Dulles called first on Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. Then he went to see President de Gaulle, whose indecision in the past has given his allies worrisome moments.

Britons of all political complexion cheered Prime Minister Macmillan's decision to fly to Moscow Feb. 21 for what he called a reconnaissance mission.

Diplomatic Prince

The suave 64-year-old Macmillan was depicted in the British press as a "diplomatic prince charming out to win the hearts of the Soviet people." Some newspapers predicted the trip would lead to an early East-West summit conference.

Dulles openly — and the French privately — endorsed the Macmillan venture as possibly useful, but they did not share the British public's expectation that it might start a thaw in the cold war.

One thing was clear: The West will await Macmillan's return from talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before forging any new proposals on the reunification of Germany to counter Soviet demands that the Allies get out of West Berlin.

Dulles still insisted that he is carrying no new proposals in his European tour of London, Paris, and Bonn. He implied he is doing more listening than talking.

He also left the way open for a possible shift in Allied strategy. Arriving in Paris, he spoke of planning an "exchange of views" and added that the talks were being held "while we are in the formative stages of our thinking."

The U.S. secretary said no policy decisions could be expected yet but that he wanted to "make sure our ideas are developing along parallel lines."

Cincinnati to Enforce Ohio's 'Blue Laws'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati intends to go ahead with its plans for enforcement of Ohio's Sunday "blue law" without waiting to see what the Legislature may do with the old statute.

The law prohibits operation of businesses on Sunday unless they are deemed necessary. Bills have been introduced in the Legislature both to repeal and to enforce the law.

Thursday, however, City Manager C. A. Harrell told officials of Free Enterprises Inc., that "I hope the Legislature takes action but it might or might not and then we get right back to where there still is a law to be enforced."

The Free Enterprises group asked deferment of enforcement until the legislature acts.

The city manager told the group he believes all businesses fall into three categories—those clearly forbidden to operate, those obviously allowed to operate and those in an uncertain or "twilight" group. Harrell said the first crack-down would be against those in the group clearly forbidden to operate.

"If someone is dissatisfied and wishes to go to court, that will not make us mad," he added.

Flood Relief in Ohio Continues

Various Agencies Working Together

By The Associated Press
A less spectacular rescue effort continues in the wake of Ohio's January floods.

It doesn't involve going through raging water to save lives and property, but it's seen in such activities as:

A state civil defense worker helping community officials apply for federal disaster relief funds for emergency repair of public property.

A representative of the federal Small Business Administration working with the owner of a flood-damaged business and the local bank to secure a long-term, 3 percent interest loan for the businessman.

A county agent assisting a farmer who has suffered flood loss to get similar assistance through the Farm Home Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Giving Victim a Hand
A Red Cross official giving an individual flood victim a hand in applying for a red cross grant to help make up for loss to private property.

All this is an excellent example of federal, state and local governments working together, state civil defense officials say.

For the most part, federal officials are on hand to advise and assist in federal fund application. State officials, too, are acting more and more in an advisory capacity since the physical aspects of their flood relief work are about at an end.

All federal disaster funds for emergency public works in local communities, for example, go through state civil defense.

Ronald Leigh Is Appointed Executive Here

Assistant Manager There Will Assume Duties by April 1

Ronald E. Leigh, assistant manager of the Greater Lafayette, Indiana, Chamber of Commerce, is the new executive secretary of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Leigh's appointment and his acceptance of the position here was announced today by Walter B. Null, Chamber president. He will come here between March 15 and April 1.

He succeeds Cas'le Smith, whose resignation was effective Jan. 15.

Mr. Leigh, one of 39 applicants interviewed by a committee which former Chamber President Robert E. Hall named last fall, comes highly recommended to the Salem Chamber.

He is 27 years old and a graduate of Purdue University, where he majored in economics and public speaking. After graduation from

Chamber Industrial Committee At Work

Further plans for establishment of a Salem Area Industrial Corporation were made at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce industrial committee Thursday night.

Glenn T. Harding, manager of the Ohio Edison Co. is chairman of the committee. Others are Ray Lowry, Archie Bricker, Delmar Smith, Robert Campbell, Lester Bateman, Fred Campbell, E. U. Whitacre, Louis Mattevi, Gail Herron, Chet Goo, Howard Firestone, George Bowman and Walter B. Null.

The Industrial Corporation would assist local industries as well as attempt to attract new plants to Salem.

Purdue in 1956, he completed two years of National Institute Training at Michigan State University. He served with the First Marine Corps in Korea from January, 1951 to June, 1952, as a combat rifleman.

He was named assistant manager of the Greater Lafayette Chamber of Commerce following his graduation from Purdue in 1956.

Makes Acceptance Statement

In accepting the position of executive secretary in Salem, Mr. Leigh commented today as follows: "The growth of a community depends upon intelligent planning. This requires a meeting ground for all elements of a community. The Salem Area Chamber of Commerce should provide this arena of discussion and action."

"A dynamic program of work should be developed to meet community needs; however, such a program of planning and developing is not alone a Chamber concern."

"The challenges of a growing community are before every citizen. Only through the united effort of all elements can a better tomorrow be realized."

"I sincerely welcome the opportunity of working with Chamber leaders, members, and other Salem citizens in the near future."

President Eisenhower Plans Quail Hunting

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower plans more quail hunting today after dividing a 20-bird bag his first time out this vacation.

The President and his host, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, got a promise of continuing good weather.

They spent seven hours in the fields of Humphrey's big plantation estate Thursday. And at day's end White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported they brought down 20 quail between them.

Youth, 4, Stabbed to Death in Wilmington, Del. Movie House

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A woman screamed hysterically in the darkness: "He's killing my baby."

An usher snapped on the theater lights, and some 50 patrons turned in their seats. They saw Jose Longoria slashing wildly with a pocket knife at a small boy, his son Steven.

The 4-year-old died quickly of body wounds.

The mother, Violet, 25, sobbing as she was taken to a hospital for treatment of shock, told police the story.

She and her husband were estranged. She and Steven were living with her parents. Longoria, 32, was released from jail only last Thursday after serving time for drunken driving. He asked to meet her Thursday to discuss future custody of the boy.

The child sat enthralled by the movie, one specifically aimed at youngsters. His parents became more and more embroiled in a bitter discussion.

Apparently no one heard them. They were in the back row of the spacious Warner Theatre. Most of the other patrons were down front, or in the balcony.

Suddenly, police said, Longoria flashed the knife.

A patron, David Cole, was the first to reach Longoria when the lights went on. The father offered no resistance.

Police said Longoria had told them he felt the child was under a bad influence.

"I love my son, but I'd rather have him dead than grow up to be a juvenile delinquent," he said. Longoria, onetime investigator for a private detective agency and lately a laborer, was charged with murder.

Hard to Kill

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the hardest things to kill successfully is time.

It is a particularly tough problem in the modern business office. There the average man or woman has to spend eight hours doing work he could actually do in three hours.

This leaves him the task of pretending to look busy for five hours. You think this is easy? Well, it isn't. What professional actor wouldn't be worn out by a five-hour performance?

Yet office employees have to do this day after day after day—all year long.

They are trained workers, not trained actors. It isn't the three hours of daily work that makes them gray and feeble before their time. It's that five hours of daily acting—acting like they're busy when they aren't.

Some employees never learn the trick. Others give performances that would make John Barrymore in "Hamlet" look like a high school sophomore.

The chances are, however, that you will find at least some of the following typical examples of time-wasters in your own office:

The Endless Wanderer—All day long he wanders from the desk to the water cooler to the rest room—then back to his desk for five minutes, and on to the water cooler again. At 40 he has kidney trouble and fallen arches.

The Groundhog—He crawls into a tunnel in the pile of debris on his desk, and emerges only at lunch and quitting time.

The Dutch Wife—If cleanliness were godliness, this guy would sit at the right hand of the heavenly throne. He cleans his desk, his telephone, his swivel chair, his memo pad—and still has two hours left to devote to polishing his spectacles.

The Hypochondriac—He wastes so much time taking pills to improve his health that he ends up too sick to be fired.

Oklahoma Cracking Down on Bootleggers Throughout State

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"This could cause a revolution," said a would-be whisky drinker.

"Why, my bootlegger said he didn't have any vodka and didn't even know when he'd get some," said a social drinker.

"There ought to be a law against this," said a clubman. For 10 years folks in constitutionally dry Oklahoma haven't been bothered by the law. But suddenly it is being enforced.

Oklahomans are talking more about whisky and probably are drinking less than ever before. And they are paying more if they do drink.

The reform administration of 33-year-old Gov. J. Howard Edmondson is trying to dry up the state and bring repeal to a vote.

"We want to give the people a clear-cut choice between prohibition and repeal," Edmondson said.

Whisky bills and a referendum proposal are before the Legislature.

Joe Cannon, 33, an attorney from Muskogee, is directing the crackdown on bootleggers as public safety commissioner heading the Highway Patrol. He has staged periodic roadblocks across the state, trying to stop the flow of illegal liquor from Missouri, Kansas, Texas, and Arkansas. In the past month whisky has gone up $1 to $1.50 a pint, if you can find it.

"I just can't serve my people," a bootlegger explained. "But one thing about it, they're not fussy anymore. I've had people beg me for Scotch that never drank Scotch in their life. It was all I had."

Bourbon, the biggest seller, now goes for $5.50 a pint in Oklahoma City.

Floods in Ohio Are Destructive

Blame for Damage
Rests With Many

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Floods of the scope that caused so much damage and misery in Ohio inevitably bring up the question: Who is to blame?

Army engineers say: Sometimes it's Congress for failing to provide money for needed dams. Sometimes it's a lack of interest in a community to demand flood protection.

But there is still a third reason that may not be so evident. It is that some of the places flooded are considered not worth protecting.

In other words, wherever the engineers find that it would cost more to build a dam than the protection it could afford in dollars, they recommend that it not be built. That means it won't be.

If flood comes, then the unfortunate people in those areas have to look to their local authorities for help, the engineers say.

What this sometimes comes down to is that residents and buildings are simply moved out and the area is turned into a park. It has been done in St. Louis and Louisville, for example.

Impossible Ideal

But if complete flood protection is an impossible ideal, what about the places where dams should have been, but weren't built in time to hold down damage in the recent flood?

The Army engineers say they have a perfect illustration of this in a project under way above Zanesville, Ohio, called Dillon Dam.

This project was started before World War II, then abandoned for years. Congress consistently refused to get it going again. Finally, about two years ago, work was resumed.

"Had the Dillon Reservoir been in operation, the (Licking) river stage would have been further reduced by 6.6 feet with complete elimination of damages," an engineers report says.

"This project would have prevented virtually all of the $800,000 damages that were experienced in the Muskingum Basin."

As it was, the engineers maintain, the existing system of 14 reservoirs reduced the flood stage by 11.4 feet so that actual damages were only $235,000.

"The damages prevented are estimated to have been $73,000,000," their report says.

There is one other matter that might have made the Ohio flood less painful to thousands. That is flood insurance.

Private insurance firms usually won't insure against this, because of the great risk to them. A few years ago, Congress set up an agency to subsidize them so they could write this insurance.

But then Congress turned down and refused to put up any money for flood insurance. So the agency went out of business—and no one has shown much interest in it since.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

UNDER MOTHER'S WING — Attached to a pylon under the wing of a B-52 jet Stratofortress, the X-15 high-altitude research aircraft is in position to be carried to drop altitude. Top and bottom photos show front and rear views respectively. The rocket ship—first try to put a man into space for a short interval—will be fueled with nitrogen and liquid oxygen through quick disconnect lines in the carrying frame. Two TV cameras on board the B-52 mother ship will observe the X-15 and its pilot leading up to the drop. The X-15 will be loosed at about 38,000 feet, where its own powerful rockets will take over. The piloted missile is designed eventually to reach an altitude of 100 miles or more. Preliminary tests at low altitude are scheduled for this month.

Local Army Reservists To Be Affected By Re-Organization

Salem's Army Reservists will be affected by a reorganization of the U.S. Army Reserve which will be announced today in Columbus by Major General Ralph W. Zwicker, Commanding General of the US Army Corps (Reserve).

Under the reorganization the headquarters of the 778th tank battalion and headquarters company will remain in Salem and Co. G of the infantry, also a local unit, will be disbanded.

The men of Co. G, when disbanded, will be re-assigned to the headquarters company of the tank battalion.

The tank battalion will gain stature, as it will become the headquarters for tank units located in East Palestine, Warren, East Liverpool, Akron and Columbus.

Authorized strength for the two units on completion of the reorganization will be 19 officers, four warrant officers, and 224 enlisted men, all of whom will be located in Salem.

More than 25,000 officers and men in active Reserve units in the corps' area will come under the plan. Active units meet one night a week or on weekends at a local Reserve center and participate in two weeks of intensive training at a military installation each summer.

Under the new plan, the Corps' present 450 active Reserve units will be consolidated into about 20 per cent fewer units.

The maximum number of Reservists from relocated or inactivated units will be assigned to units that are retained in their present locations.

The Army plans to organize special training units for Reserve officers who find themselves living in communities without an Army Reserve unit for which they are qualified. Participation in these units will enable the officers to earn credit toward retirement.

Also, Reserve Officers may accumulate retirement points through attachments for training to units retained, attendance at an Army Reserve school or at an active Army service school or by taking Army extension courses.

Assigned students at Army Reserve Schools and Reservists participating in unpaid training units will not be affected by the reorganization.

Under the reorganization plan two units here will be consolidated into one unit. These figures do not include reservists attending Army Reserve schools or those who are in training units.

Happy Fable of the "Rubbage Ridder"

In the Dark Ages Householders (usually The Woman) performed a Frequent Ritual known as "Canning the GARBAGE" and a Weekly Bit Wherein Man responded to the cry "... Heavens sake Get RID of that RUBBISH." What he did was Messy and Dangerous to Health and Safety. "Scorching the Rubbish" took you out in the cold, or it interfered with Watching the Ball Game. It also Smelled Up the Neighborhood and created a Fire Hazard.

Man finally got Fed Up with the Old Routine, so he invented an Appliance like a Small Gas Furnace.

The Gas Flame serves as an Ignitor and helps to provide an intense flame, consuming everything placed in the Insulated Chamber. (Only a few Pennies Worth of Gas.) It will Dry and Consume GARBAGE with or without

RUBBISH. Neatest Trick is the down-draft which draws all Fumes through a GAS "Afterburner" where they are Done Away With SO, No Smoke or Smell. Demonstrating to his Wife the Inventor explained ... "You just put ALL RUBBISH and GARBAGE in here." "Then you've got Rubbage," she quipped. Undaunted, he flicked the Gas Lighter Flame. Moments later, not even "Rubbage", just a little heap of Dry Ash. "The easiest Riddance of a Week's Rubbage I ever saw," she admitted. "Why not call it a 'Rubbage Ridder'?" But the VP in Charge of Calling It insists that the Word be In-cin-er-a-tor, meaning "Clean Burning". ... So-o-o. Whatever YOU call it, IT DOES GET RID OF RUBBISH AND GARBAGE THE EASY WAY. Ask your dealer to show you the Latest Type.

Incinerators with Fume Consuming Draft arrangement that insures — Smokeless, Odorless operation; in Commercial or

Home sizes. Remember, this is the only device which gets rid of BOTH RUBBISH AND GARBAGE instantly, and IT makes no Crunching Munching Noises.

DON'T LET "RUBBAGE" PUT YOU OUT

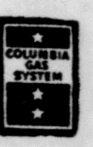

INCINERATE IT WITHOUT SMOKE OR SMELL

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Parent-Child Quarrels Have Two Sides

Several years ago a desperate father brought his 15-year-old son in to see me. Apparently the boy's behavior was bad and, as a last resort, the father thought there might be some physical condition at fault.

The boy was sullen and uncommunicative. He obviously came to the office only because his father made him. The father was extremely upset and constantly spoke sharply to the youngster.

There was nothing physical wrong with the boy and his mental reactions appeared perfectly normal. But it did not take long to tell what was wrong.

First, I pointed out to the father that a 15-year-old boy was no longer a small child and could not be ordered around as he had been when younger.

THE FATHER had been raised in the old school where the father's word was law. He expected his teen-age son to obey his every word without question. The father had not been able to adjust himself gradually to the growing maturity and outside interests of his son — or the kind of society in which they were now living.

The boy, on the other hand, was completely unsympathetic with his father. He failed to realize that the father was picking on him all the time because of love for him and desire that he should develop into a fine upstanding man.

This was apparently a new idea to the boy. His eyes widened to the completely new idea that his father would cut off his own right hand if it would help him.

I hope that the conversation may have meant the beginning of a new understanding between father and son and the development of a happier relationship than had existed in the past. Both needed to understand the other better and both needed an increased respect for the individuality, thoughts and problems of the other.

THIS KIND of problem in varying degrees affects almost all fathers and sons. It is difficult for fathers, in many cases, to realize the gradual change from completely dependent babyhood to mature adult. It is often even more difficult for mothers to make these necessary adjustments with their sons — or their daughters either.

What has all of this to do with health?

Constant family friction can certainly lead to emotional strain. This in turn may affect many ill-which are known to be greatly influenced by the emotions.

Furthermore, it is not just the physical health which counts, but also mental and emotional adjustment to life's many problems.

Ministers' Wives Guests of WCTU

Five women, three of them wives of Salem ministers, one a minister and one a Salvation Army officer, were honored guests of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Salvation Army Citadel on S. Broadway.

They included Mrs. Harold B. Winn, Mrs. Arthur Brown Jr., Mrs. William Snowball, the Rev. Constance Gough and Lt. Grace Lynch. Four had part in a discussion on the general theme, "The Christian and the Alcohol Problem."

Mrs. Winn talked on the church and the alcohol problem; Mrs. Brown, the highway and the alcohol problem, while the community and the alcohol problem was the topic of Mrs. Snowball. Rev. Gough's article dealt with the home and alcohol.

Rev. Gough gave the devotions in which she reviewed an article entitled, "there is no such thing as moderation in sin."

The welcome was given by Miss Pearl Walker, and Mrs. Edith Dean was in charge of the flag salute.

A bouquet of white carnations, the Union's official flower, was presented in memory of the late Frances E. Willard, who organized the World WCTU.

Announcement was made of the national membership and organization week project, Feb. 16 to 22.

One new member was reported. Recognition was given the oldest member, Mrs. Clara Finney, 93, who was in attendance.

Mrs. Nettie Stark Green, Mrs. Arthur Hanna, Mrs. Neil Leonhart and Rev. Gough were in charge of the social period.

The next meeting is March 3.

Past Rulers Honored by Elks

Life Memberships Awarded to Three In Recognition

Twenty-one of the 27 living past exalted rulers of the Salem Elks Lodge were honored at a dinner meeting held Thursday night in the Elks Home. More than 100 attended the affair.

In the group were the three oldest past exalted rulers of the lodge, C. E. Phillips, who served in 1907-08; Arthur R. Stark, 1912-13, and Paul Lowry of Youngstown, formerly of Salem, 1914-15.

Highlight of the program was the presentation of life membership cards to three past exalted rulers who were recently voted that honor for outstanding meritorious service to the Order of Elks. Honored were Norman W. Kelley, exalted ruler in 1938-39; Cloyd W. Reynard, 1942-43, and Robert C. Middeker, 1945-46.

Other past exalted rulers who occupied the lodge chairs or had part in the proceedings were:

Carl Juergens, 1922-23; J. N. Kyle, 1926-27; Albert P. Morris, 1928-29; R. E. Kenneweg, 1940-41; Lloyd Robusch, 1941-42; Vernon Broomall, 1946-47; Harry C. Snyder, 1948 - 49; Fordham Benson, 1949-50; Robert Paxson, 1952-53; William Blount, 1953-54; James S. Gregg, 1954-55; R. Max Gard, 1955-56; E. J. Blackburn, 1956-57 and Harold E. Parker, 1957-58.

Members who have belonged to the lodge for 30 years or more but never served as officers also were honored. Heading the group was E. U. Whitacre, with 53 years of service.

Two Persons Named To 4-H Committee

Two Columbiana County residents were named to the Columbiana County 4-H Advisory committee Thursday night when the Columbiana County 4-H Council gathered for its quarterly meeting in the county extension office at Lisbon.

Ronald Kampfer of Highlandtown, a 4-H member, was elected for a two-year term, and Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers, advisor, was elected for one year.

Judy Dornick of Wellsville was elected secretary of the County 4-H Council, to fill the unexpired term of Penny Arter of Lisbon, who resigned.

George Green of Geauga County, state 4-H advisory committee representative, discussed activities of the state 4-H council and showed slides of the 4-H club congress held in Chicago last December.

Enrollment dates for county club were set for March 1 and April 1, moved up one month from April 1 and May 1.

Reports were given by all committees.

A letter by the council will be forwarded to W. B. Wood, director of Ohio Agriculture Service, requesting another home demonstration agent for Columbiana County as recommended by the state. At present, the county has only one agent.

Mrs. George Hawkins of Salem, chairman, presided over the meeting. Fourteen members of the council were present.

requirements of professional plant location personnel.

In addition to organization work with the Merchants Association there, Mr. Leigh devoted considerable time to reorganization of the Chamber's taxation program and to tax research work.

He has been active in community sports activities in Lafayette and has assisted in vocational education work.

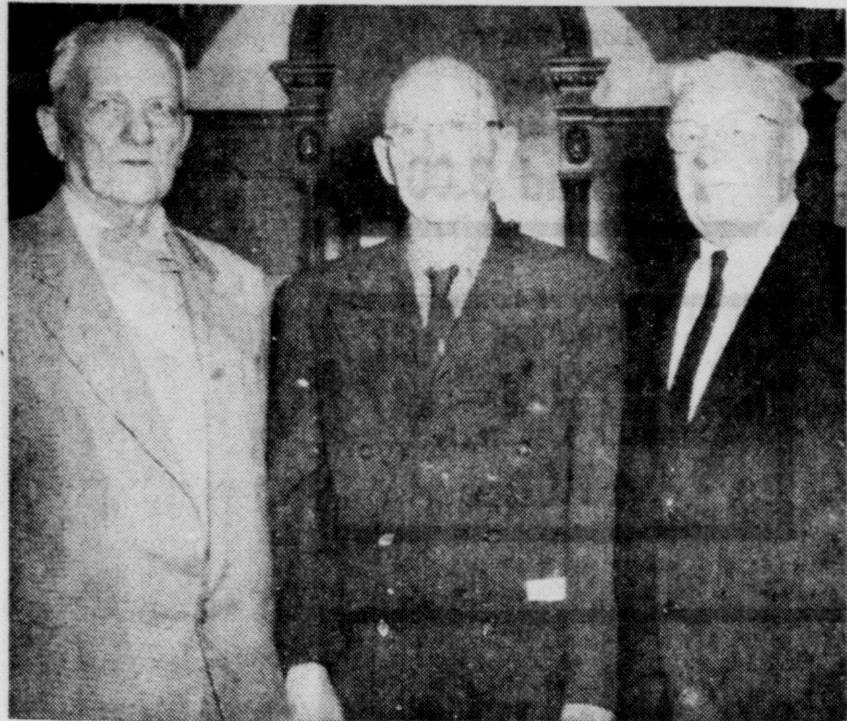

He headed the Lafayette Chamber taxation committee which assisted city and school districts with their budgets in an effort to obtain the greatest degree of service for each tax dollar. In addition to the industrial development brochure which Mr. Leigh compiled, two annual reports on taxation were prepared for the chamber membership and interested citizens organizations.

Mr. Leigh, a native of Lafayette, Ind., graduated from Jefferson High School there before entering Purdue. He is single although he expects to be married before he comes to Salem. He belongs to the Methodist Church, the Elks Lodge, American Legion, Exchange Club at Lafayette, the United Fund and the Purdue Alumni Association.

In reviewing Mr. Leigh's qualifications and accomplishments, President Walter Null of the Salem Chamber of Commerce expressed appreciation to the committee which began its search for a new executive secretary last Sept. 17.

The committee included Howard E. Firestone, chairman, Glenn Harding, James H. Wilson Sr., George H. Bowman, Mrs. George W. Bunn, Al Bloomberg, Alden Gross and George W. Rogers, secretary.

Crash

the Civil Aeronautics Board said: "The only thing we're sure of is that there is no indication of what caused the accident."

But Flight Engineer Warren E. Cook, 35, a crash survivor in critical condition at Queens General Hospital, has been quoted as saying that the plane's pilots "might have had a mix-up with those new altimeters."

The pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, 59, is dead.

Ohio

eral government does not have to be paid back by the community. The first applications began to come in Thursday.

Great Deal Remains But despite governmental efforts, a great deal of work remains to be done in Ohio communities hit by the high waters.

In Fremont, for example, clean-up work continues in store basements and homes. In some cases, trucks are backed up to the rear door of stores and ruined merchandise is shoveled out.

The 10-million dollar flood damage figure—6½ in the city and 3½ in Sandusky County—is still being used. Some 1,500 persons were evacuated from their homes, and although no figures on insurance protection are available, most merchants carried no flood insurance because of prohibitive rates, due in large part to the 1913 flood.

At Chillicothe, private property loss is estimated at $7,425,000, and the over-all loss is said to be more than eight million dollars. More than 1,350 homes had water in them, but most occupants have since returned, often to find damage severe enough to necessitate almost complete rebuilding.

The Red Cross has already spent $45,500 for rehabilitation, and the city $27,000 for temporary repairs to its streets.

At Mount Vernon, Army engineers have already put a Norwalk firm to work repairing washed-out dikes. The Red Cross has spent more than $10,000 and expects to spend around $175,000.

Mahoning School Board Postponed to Feb. 18

The meeting date for the Board of Education of the Mahoning Local School District has been changed this month to Wednesday, Feb. 18.

The regular meeting night is the second Wednesday of each month; however, two of the board members cannot be present next Wednesday, so the meeting was postponed a week.

With The Patients

Miss Loretta Provost, a former Salem resident, has returned to her home at 207 N. Lea St., Roswell, N.M., after being discharged from the hospital there, where she received medical treatment for 10 days. She is now reported to be in good condition.

CANFIELD CLUB TO MEET

The February meeting of the Canfield Community Club will be held at the Skylark Restaurant tonight will feature a report by Mayor Earl Roudsbush of village activities this past year.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: I have just purchased a pair of cutting pliers. A friend tells me that giving them a coat of lacquer will keep acts as an excellent rust preventive. The only disadvantage is that it ing their life. Is this true?

ANSWER: Dipping the pliers in clear lacquer, thinned about 50 per cent with lacquer thinner, acts as an excellent rust preventive. The lacquer eventually begins to chip or wear off and must be removed with lacquer thinner and given a new coat.

QUESTION: I bought a second-hand circular saw blade and now find that the hold in the center of it is too big for the arbor on my table saw. Can this hole be filled in with some kind of metal patch to make it fit properly?

ANSWER: Go to a dealer who sells saw blades. You probably can buy from him a little metal insert to fit the hole in the blade. If he does not have it in stock, he can get it for you or tell you where to purchase it.

Night Courses to Open At Beaver Local School

Three night courses will be offered at Beaver Local School beginning next week. The two-hour sessions will be held for 10 consecutive weeks.

Sewing classes one and two will be held Tuesdays at 7 p.m., and practical office experience and golf courses will be held Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Other courses previously announced have been canceled due to an insufficient number of registrations, according to Lee Kirkland, school principal.

Manslaughter Case Will Begin Monday

LISBON — The traffic manslaughter case against Dale Glenn Morrell, 27, of Chester, W. Va., will begin Monday before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Morrell is charged in the death of John W. Webber of East Liverpool RD 2, on Rt. 7, just north of Wellsville, last Oct. 25.

Fourth Street School Card Party Canceled

The benefit card party scheduled for Monday evening at the Fourth Street School has been canceled.

The party was being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

LEAVES BOND IN LISBON

LISBON — Chris G. Markanton, 32, of East Liverpool forfeited a $15 bond in Mayor John Todd's court Thursday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of speeding.

He was cited by the State Highway Patrol on Rt. 30 in Madison Township.

17 WILL BE INDUCTED

LISBON — The County Draft Board will send 17 men for induction Monday, March 9, and most of the quota will be met with volunteers. Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of the board, reports.

One man will be sent to Cleveland for his pre-induction physical Monday, March 16, she said.

Recording

As two of the plane's unidentified victims were buried today with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery, two members of the Senate Armed Services Committee renewed demands for a speed-up in the defense program.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said: "It becomes more and more clear that some day we will have to stand against the growing Communist aggression. We will never put our defenses in a proper position to take that stand by tailoring our defense to a balanced budget."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said the attack was the outgrowth of "a weakening defense posture on our part."

Congress

this but were overruled in discussions within the administration.

Rogers told a news conference, however, that he feels the administration proposals are constructive and would prove helpful "to the over-all problem presented in the civil rights field."

In Congress, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other supporters of the administration's program described it as in line with the President's avowed moderate course in the explosive civil rights field.

Criticism came from Southerners opposed to any civil rights legislation. They denounced the program as an offensive invasion of states' rights and as politically motivated.

On the other side were Senate and House members who said the President's program was all right as far as it went but that it did not go far enough.

Their principal complaint was pointed up by the comment of Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) that "The President, by implication, accepts the idea that all enforcement of civil rights in the field of schools should be by the judicial branch of the government."

"What is needed," he said, "is executive enforcement."

Couple Gets $52 Over State Offer for Land

LISBON — A jury late Thursday afternoon awarded $12,494 to a Leetonia area couple for land appropriated by the State Highway Department for the relocation of Rt. 45, between Salem and Lisbon. The amount is $52 more than the state had offered to pay.

Gordon W. and Vera M. Simpson were awarded this amount after the jury deliberated two hours. The state had offered the Simpsons $12,442 for the 1.11 acres of land, house and barn.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard presided over the four-day trial.

The land appropriation case of William and Agnes E. Peterson of RD 1, Lisbon, who rejected the state's offer of $1,497 for about an acre of land along Rt. 164, south of Lisbon, will begin Monday morning before Judge Buzzard.

Three Scouts Guests At Kiwanis Luncheon

Darrell Filler, Cub Scout, Don Smith, Boy Scout and Richard Carter, Explorer Scout, were guests Thursday noon at the Kiwanis Club meeting when National Boy Scout Week was observed.

Powell Schmauch of Salem, president of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, was the principal speaker. Calvin Filler, Columbiana Council Commissioner, also addressed the group.

The program was in charge of Lionel Smith, president of the northern district of Columbiana County.

Services Planned At Rogers Church

Sunday worship will begin at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Rogers Methodist Church. The Rev. Mark George will give the sermon.

Sunday school will start at 10 a.m., with Charles Hawkins, superintendent.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

The World Day of Prayer service will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Look this way . . . if you're looking for a second income

Perhaps you're thinking of joining the millions of Americans who own common stock. Many people have shared in the profits of leading companies through dividends. And many have seen their investments grow, as their companies have grown. Or perhaps you'll want to consider owning preferred stock or bonds.

One easy and pleasant way to find out more about investing for a second income is to come in and discuss your investment objectives with us. There's no obligation. We're here to help you: to buy, to sell, to get the facts. Begin by reading our booklet, "Investment Facts." It contains the records of over 300 stocks that have paid cash dividends every 3 months from 20

Deaths, Funerals

Miss Mahala May

NEW SPRINGFIELD—Miss Mahala G. May of Garfield Road died at 3:30 a.m. today at her residence following a five-month illness.

Born in Springfield Township, she was the daughter of Harvey H. and Margaret Pfau May.

A life-long resident here, she was employed as elementary curriculum consultant by the Boardman school system.

A member of the Church of God, she attended Wooster College and Columbia University and was graduated from Oberlin College and Kent State University, receiving her master's degree from Western Reserve University. She was a Petersburg High School graduate.

She was a member of the Mahoning County Educational Association and Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi Sororities.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Roy Riesen of Youngstown, Florence M. May and E. Mildred May of New Springfield; and three brothers, R. Edgar May of Darlington, Pa., and Victor A. May and J. Everett May of New Springfield.

Services will be Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fry Funeral Home in Columbiana, with the Rev. Homer F. Trick officiating. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery in Youngstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. George Pettit

MINERVA — Mrs. Rebecca C. Pettit, 99, Minerva's oldest citizen, of 303 W. Plain St., died Thursday morning at the Minerva Rest Home, following a four-month illness.

Born near Minerva Oct. 12, 1859, she was the daughter of Levi and Jane Morehead Harsh. Her husband, George W. Pettit, died in 1930.

She had spent her life here with the exception of 20 years when she resided in Cleveland.

She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Mary Martha Sunday School Class, the Muhlenberg Circle, the Entre Nous Club and Esther Chapter Order of Eastern Star here and the Pythian Sisters of Maivern.

Survivors include a brother, Howard Harsh of Columbus; and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Gotschall - Hutchison Funeral Home, with the Rev. Glen E. Clauser officiating. Burial will be in East Lawn Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9.

Air Force

A B25 approaching the Little Rock (Ark.) Air Force Base suddenly fell, killing one of the five men aboard. He was Sgt. E. C. Wilson, 31, of Newark, Ark. The other four had only minor injuries.

It was the second fatal accident at the base since Tuesday night, when a B47 crashed while making a landing approach. All three aboard were killed.

The Coast Guard said no sign has been found of wreckage or survivors of the B50 hurricane hunter plane which left Bermuda Wednesday.

Youngstown Teamsters Dispute Requires Police

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown police were needed twice within 24 hours to settle disputes between factions of Teamsters Local 377.

John J. Angelo, secretary treasurer, called officers Thursday during a disagreement with trustees Abe Schwartz and vice president Thomas Farelo.

They refused to leave the union hall and used loud and profane language, Angelo said, after he removed them from the payroll and cut their expense accounts. Schwartz and Farelo claimed they had a right to be in the union hall, but left after a talk with police.

It took police 40 minutes Wednesday night to break up a brawl at a membership meeting. The fight resulted when a member proposed that Schwartz and Farelo be suspended from the union.

Phillis

operated a restaurant here before he was provisionally appointed to the superintendent's position at the home Aug. 26. His wife is matron at the home.

The superintendent's post pays $260 a month, and the matron receives $160. Quarters and board are provided.

Commissioners said they appointed Phillis because he has been doing a good job as acting superintendent. He succeeds Ray Adams who held the position for 17½ years.

Others certified to the commissioners were Willard Wayne Thompson of East Liverpool MC 22, first; and Russell George Sinsley of Leetonia RD 2, second.

Reichenbach has been county dog warden since 1954, having succeeded Laduska Stark.

He had been assistant to Stark since 1948. Others passing the test for dog warden were Jack Clunk, former assistant dog warden until Jan. 5, first; Kenneth Howard of Lisbon, second; and Albin Ronshak of Lisbon, fourth.

Prior to being placed under Civil Service, the dog warden was appointed each year by the commissioners. The post pays $4,440 a year.

The commissioners failed to appoint an assistant dog warden. At present, Harold McCall, former mayor of Rogers, is helping Reichenbach.

Senate

Okla), sponsor of the airport bill, said he has no advance plans to make floor compromises such as the Democrats agreed to on housing.

Some Republicans charged that the action on housing coupled with Democratic plans for the airport bill showed that wild spenders were in control of Congress and that any hope of a balanced budget was wrecked.

But Democratic leaders contended they had met the President half way on the housing measure and that they did not see how he could veto the bill.

The bill is designed to give a shot in the arm to the nation's housing industry by meeting emergency financing needs of some key programs.

It also contains far-reaching extensions of the slum clearance and public housing programs under which many cities are rebuilding their dilapidated areas.

Thieves Steal Blasting Items From Mine Shack

LISBON — Columbiana County deputies are investigating the theft of a quantity of blasting materials and fertilizer stolen from the Torrence Coal Co. strip mining site near Dunganon between Tuesday and Thursday.

Stolen were four boxes of dynamite, five boxes of primers, 1,000 feet of primer cord, a box of electric blasting caps and 50 sacks of nitrate fertilizer.

Deputies said the thieves broke into the shack in which the materials were stored and apparently carried them to a truck. There were no tire marks around the shack, deputies said.

Program Announced For Saxon Chorus

Karl Meinhardt, director, has announced the program for the Salem Saxon Chorus winter concert Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Saxon Hall.

It will include the following selections: "Let There Be Music" by Williams, "Welcome" by The i s s, "Lamb of God" by Christianson, "Widmung" by Franz, "Ein Traum" by Lassen, and a Swiss Folk Song, "Hi Ho Sing Gaily."

The special feature of the concert is the appearance of the Schwaebischer Saengerbund of Cleveland, a 50-voice a capella group which will present, "Abend auf der Heide," "Die Rose von Burgund," "Das Morgenrot," "Heimat," "Annie Laurie," and "Schonbluend die Heckenrosen."

Other numbers by the Saxon Chorus will include, "Madam Jeanette" by Murray, "Carol of the Drum" by Davis. This number will feature a duet by Dorothy Diehl and Michael Stumpehr.

Also a tribute to Romberg arranged by MacLean, and Lutkin's "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

Bonnie Minth is the accompanist.

The Fasching dance will follow the concert with music furnished by John Celak and his Rhythmaires. A sauerkraut and sausage supper will be served. The public is invited.

Hanoverton Man Found Guilty of Non-Support

LISBON — A guilty verdict was returned Thursday by a Common Pleas Court jury in the one-day trial of Harris Shasteen, 34, of Hanoverton RD 1, who was charged with non-support.

Shasteen, indicted secretly by the January Grand Jury, had pleaded not guilty at arraignment day Jan. 19.

The jury was sworn in Thursday morning by Judge Joel H. Sharp, deliberated 40 minutes before arriving at a verdict.

Serving on the jury were Elizabeth Dailey and Adeline Barlow of East Liverpool; Lillian Riegel, Emerson Call, Mildred Helm and Ruth Greenwood of Salem; J. Frederick Russell of Wellsville; Guy Frantz, Malinda Gerlach and Mary Bell of Lisbon; Orin Deffenbach of Leetonia; and John Hartman of North Georgetown.

Sentencing was deferred for three days to permit Shasteen to file for a new trial.

THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY SPRANG FROM

The necessity for communication with other people has always been the compelling reason for installing a telephone. So it was that the telephone industry, born and still conducted in the best traditions of American enterprise had its beginning.

For example, a small obscure but enterprising merchant discovered that he could communicate with his home by means of a few hundred feet of wire and two crude telephone instruments. Rapidly expanding demand for this new service inspired an undertaker to develop the dial type telephone system. The first such installations in Ohio were made in small towns. Handset telephones were first introduced to Ohio telephone users by small-town telephone companies.

Selective ringing for party line subscribers, customer toll dialing and automatic toll ticketing are all innovations that had their beginning as the result of the endeavors and initiative of home town telephone men. Our progress is due to the fact that we are constantly searching for new and better ways for providing telephone service for our subscribers.

During the last ten years this company has provided 33,071 of its subscribers with the latest type of dial telephones.

Modern Henhouses Increase Egg Production for Farmers

By ROBERT J. DRAKE
Cleveland Plain Dealer Writer

CLEVELAND — When Loy Hostetler of Smithville started in the egg business 25 years ago a good hen could lay 150 eggs a year. Ten years ago the figure was a scant 200.

Today a layer that drops much below 240 is a candidate for soup. Hostetler had what he thought was a modern chicken house four years ago. Obsolete last spring, it was modernized again.

The late Charles F. (Boss) Kettering used to tell rural audiences that the only part of a man that amounted to much was from the neck up. Everything below, he said, could be replaced by electricity at a cent an hour. Nothing better illustrates what he meant than the chicken business.

Electricity hatches the eggs, gathers the eggs, cleans the litter, ventilates coops, carries food and water. One of these days it will be candling eggs. Electricity, for $50 a month, enables Hostetler and a full-time helper to care for 11-000 layers and grow half the grain they eat.

Anyone who quit the chicken business 20 years ago would recognize nothing about the modern industry except the hen, which appears to be a lightweight leghorn. But here again he would be wrong, for the fowl is a crossed and re-crossed strain geared to lay more and more eggs on less and less feed.

She lives an aseptic, sexless life, often cooped up in a wire cage, until she falters after 15 months of laying. Then the soup factory takes her for what she brought as a day-old chick, or about 45 cents.

Ralph W. Strong's Longview Farms in Brunswick, dealing in poultry and eggs, is marketing the eggs from four nearby farms which he helped establish in the egg business. In a three-way agreement, one hatchery furnishes the pullets, one company the feed and strong guarantees a market for the eggs.

This is an example of vertical integration, or contract farming whereby some off-the-farm agency assumes control of production and marketing.

The idea is not new. Ohio farmers have been growing under contract for canning factories, sugar plants and pickle processors for many years. Opponents argue that it reduces the farmer to the status of a wage slave. On the other hand, it is at least a partial answer to high-risk investment that besets modern farming.

Some 1,200 hogs owned by a Huron County feed mill operator are the guinea pigs in one of Ohio's first trials of vertical integration in swine.

They are fattening on 18 farms. The market check will be split down the middle between farmer and feed mill.

For George Deering, proprietor of the Greenwich Mill & Elevator Co., contract farming of hogs looked like a steady feed business the year around. He has 15 employees on the payroll during busy and slack months.

He spent his 1957 vacation studying vertical integration in Georgia and was impressed by what he saw.

"In a dozen years or less," he predicted, "hog raising will be entirely taken over by the big feed businesses."

So he came home and started buying and farming out pigs. Today he has a waiting list of farmers applying for contract hogs.

"I plan to hire a man to supervise the business and buy hogs," he said. "We may start farming out brood stock this year." And the farmer stands the cost of the pig, or may provide his own furnished building, equipment and labor. Deering provides feed and supervision.

In the tightening hog market, the slow converter of feed to meat soon could cost its owner money. Deering takes this risk. The conversion rate to date has averaged 3.7 pounds of feed to a pound of gain.

The farmer's chief risk is disease. A Shelby veterinarian keeps watch over the scattered herds. Ellis Dotson, who has raised and marketed some of the hogs and is now feeding 120, said he was well satisfied with the returns to date. His shares from two lots marketed averaged $4.10 and $6.33 per hog.

For Doson, a cash grain farmer, contract hogs offer an income without much investment. A former dairy stable has been converted to swine housing.

"The highest return any of our farmers has ever had was over $11, on a $24.50 market," said Deering. "We hope to build up to an average of $10 to $12."

"We consult the farmer on marketing and try to get him the best deal, but we don't dictate. He can sell anywhere."

Sixty million working Americans may have the 35-hour week scheduled later this month as the AFL-CIO executive council meets in Puerto Rico. stance than the shadowy campaigns of the past is the fact that the AFL-CIO headquarters is moving this time. It will be a national coordinated push for all of labor's 60,000 locals — and not just a drive by one union or one national personality.

There are many 35-hour and even 32-hour contracts around in the skilled trades. But this campaign is for all trades — especially the unskilled and the clerical, the mass of organized unionists. And as they go, so will the rest of America's work force.

THE NATIONAL AFL-CIO leaders will argue that the recession began in 1953 — not 1957. They will say that the number of available jobs has been slashed by our ability to produce more swiftly.

They will point out that in most industries we've swung back to the "full production of the prosperous years" — but that employment hasn't.

They will say that there are now some 4,300,000 jobless. In 1960, the "war babies" will be entering the work force at the rate of 750,000 a year. By '61, the toddlers of the early war years will be swarming in at 1,200,000 yearly.

If production is "full" now and unemployment hasn't been wiped out, then the country can expect seven to eight million jobless in the next three or four years, Mr. Keyserling is expected to tell the nation's labor chiefs.

A report on the National Ruritan Convention held last weekend in Washington, D. C. was given by Allen F. West, president, at Wednesday night's meeting of the Damascus Ruritan Club. Also attending the convention was Joseph Bush of Damascus.

Wednesday night's meeting was held in the Damascus Methodist church, where a dinner was served to the members by the women of the church.

Members were urged to attend the Feb. 11 meeting of the Beloit Ruritan Club, which was started by the Damascus Ruritans.

In his report on the convention, Mr. West said that Fred Betts was elected national president, and that Floyd Lower of Lisbon, district governor of Ohio, who was presented an award for having formed the most Ruritan Clubs in any one state, also was elected to serve on the national board of directors.

Tape recordings of the convention, including a discussion group in which the new president talked with Ohio members, and a talk by Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America, will be presented by Mr. West at the March 4 meeting in the Damascus Methodist Church.

Mrs. Clyde Barclay will entertain the Damascus Garden Club Feb. 12.

The first and second degrees will be exemplified when the next meeting of Garfield Grange will be held Feb. 11.

Mrs. Raymond Gilbet of Alliance was a weekend guest of Mrs. C. T. Shreve.

DEVOTIONS were conducted by Mrs. Fred Israel when the Women's Society of Christian Service was entertained by Mrs. Lea Bennett, Monday.

The group discussed the Mission lessons from Isaiah which the pastor will teach, with the dates to be announced, Mrs. William Hoskins reported on the family whom the members are helping.

Bradley Braves Swamp Seattle University by 86-70

Missouri Valley Race Tightening

St. John's Dumps Richmond by 85-76

By The Associated Press
The way the Bradley Braves have honed their hatches, the three-team run for the Missouri Valley Conference basketball title should be a dilly.

The Braves, who whipped Seattle 86-70 in an intersectional game Thursday night, are involved in a race with Cincinnati and St. Louis that should carry the stretch suspense of some of the old Cunningham-Venzke-Bonthron mile duels.

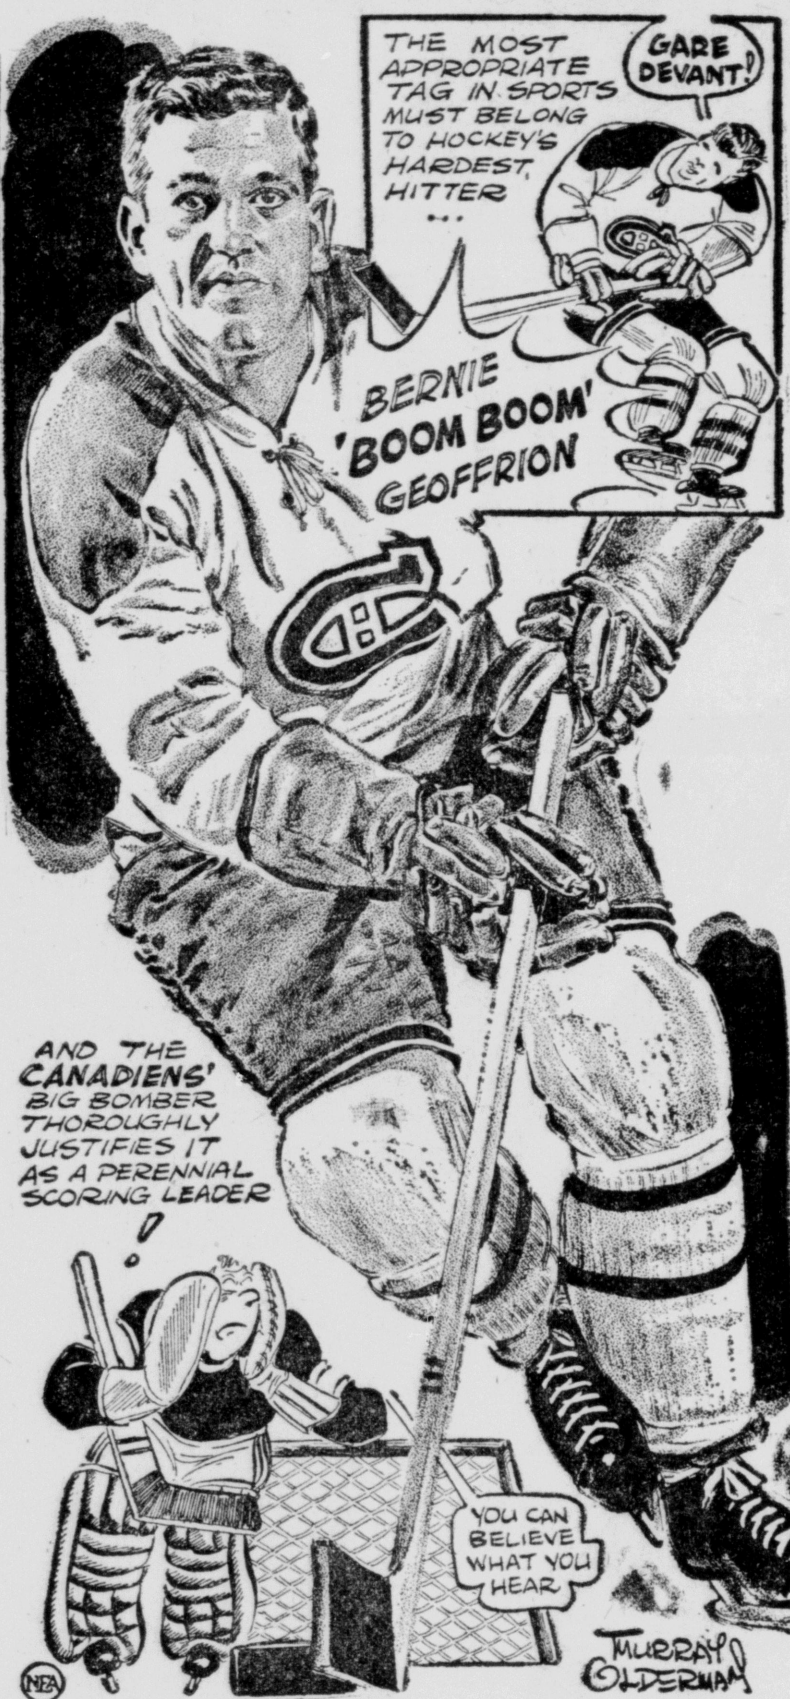

Only the Southeastern Conference, with Auburn, Kentucky and Mississippi State, can hope to match the Mo Valley for class and balance at the top of the league standings.

Cincinnati, with its great Oscar Robertson, is the front-runner in the MV with an 8-0 league mark. St. Louis, carrying a 12-game winning streak, and Bradley trail with 5-1 conference record. Both defeats were inflicted by Cincinnati.

St. John's (NY) returned to Madison Square Garden and regained its winning touch 85-76 over Richmond, Utah fattened its Skyline Conference lead by trimming Colorado State U. 68-48, and Eastern Kentucky held its Ohio Valley Conference lead with a 72-69 decision over Tennessee Tech in Thursday night's other features.

Bucknell handed Temple its 12th loss in 17 tries, 79-72 as Bob Ericson scored six points in the closing minutes. Bob Skousen hit for 24 points and John Nicoll 22 in Brigham Young's 85-77 victory over New Mexico, and Montana dropped Wyoming 73-61 despite a 38-point performance by Tony Windis. Orby Arnold's 21 points led Memphis State over Tampa, 95-65.

WITH A BOOM BOOM

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

Kent, Berea, Cincinnati and Toledo will be the sites of this year's Class AA regional tournaments. The contests will be held respectively in the Kent State University field house, the Baldwin-Wallace College gym, Cincinnati Gardens and in the Toledo University field house.

The Berea event will take place March 11-12-14 while the other three will come off March 13-14. The Class A regionals will take place in Athens, Troy, Lima and Canton. The Athens and Troy games will be March 12-13-14 and the ones in Lima and Canton will occur March 13-14.

Solely on the basis of the current standings in the Class AA associated Press poll the four teams that will battle in the state finals in Columbus March 20-21 will be Cleveland East Tech, Toledo Central Catholic, Dayton Roosevelt and Akron Central.

East Tech (No. 1) and unbeaten Elyria (No. 2) would meet in the Berea regional. Toledo Central Catholic presumably would emerge from the Toledo regional while the same token Dayton Roosevelt would win everything in the Cincy regional.

Salem will be directly involved in the regional at Kent. They will play their sectional and district games both at Youngstown's South High field house.

Akron Central will have to defeat either Salem or Youngstown Chaney to move out of Kent. Salem and Chaney both can't possibly go to Kent because they'll be at each other in the district meet.

I have not seen Akron Central play but know they have height which compares to East Tech. I have seen Chaney in action twice. Once was in the Farrell, Pa. tournament while the first time was in a pre-season scrimmage with the Quakers here during the second week in November.

ASIDE from East Tech, Chaney is the only other club I've seen this season which can match Salem in shooting and all-around speed.

George Simstad's Cowboys possess balance in 6-7 Ron Sabo along with 6-0 Marty Pesut and 5-10 Clark Avery.

Chaney's offense is patterned after the system used by Dom Rosselli at Youngstown University. Sabo is rugged on the backboards and has a terrific push shot from around the foul line. In Pesut and Avery the Cowboys have speed and very adept ball-handlers comparable to Salem's Dave Hunter, Woody Deitch, Dan Krichbaum and Jim Lehwald.

Providing Chaney and Salem both get through the sectional inevitable as death and taxes that these two clubs will meet in a district clash at South Field House March 13 or 14th.

Before the season started last December the Quakers were pointing for one game on their schedule more so than any other. To say the least, it was East Tech. If the Salemites are going to go anywhere in the state tourney this season it's my conviction that right now they better start preparing for the Cowboys and in much the same manner as they did for the tall Scarabs.

Tourney games must be taken one at a time, of course. However, there is always that "one game" teams point toward. At this time it's the 12th-ranked Chaney Cowboys, a club with a 14-1 record and one that has scored over 100 points twice this season.

CHANEY's only loss was 50-46 to Charleoi, Pa. The Cougars, to clear up a point, were not Pennsylvania state champs last year but the winners of the Keystone State's District 10. The state is divided into 10 districts and from this list of 10, one emerges as the state champ.

WHAT'S HAPPENING to the United Golden Eagles? They have lost two of their last three games, once to Salineville and the other to Irontide. They are 12-3 now and are ranked sixth in the Class A poll.

Purdue Eying Upset of MSU

Boilermakers 3-3 For Big 10 Season

By The Associated Press

The same balanced, all-senior lineup which blasted Illinois 102-81 last week holds Purdue's hope of upsetting leading Michigan State Saturday in a key game of the Big Ten basketball race.

The steadily improving Boilermakers, winning their last two starts for a 3-3 record, should be a dangerous obstacle on their home court for the poised Spartans.

The licking handed Illinois may mean Purdue has jelled into the contender it was supposed to be.

Second place is at stake at Michigan, where the invading Indiana Hoosiers make their first appearance since their amazing, record-shattering 122-92 victory over Ohio State Monday.

Michigan and Indiana have 4-2 marks. The game will be the weekly afternoon regionally televised fare.

In other games, Illinois (3-4) is at Northwestern 3-4, Minnesota (4-3) at Iowa (3-4) and Wisconsin (0-5) at Ohio State (5).

Michigan State's only defeat in seven conference starts was on the road, 80-68, at Iowa. Since then the Spartans have tumbled Illinois, Ohio State, Minnesota, Northwestern and Wisconsin.

Topping Purdue's senior lineup is 6-5 Willie Merriweather with a 20.6 scoring average and Wilson Elison with 18.

John Green heads MSU with 19.5 while Bob Andereggs has 18.8 and Horace Walker 13.8.

White Sox See Fast Start as Key to 1959 Baseball Season

(Second of a series under the managers' own bylines sizing up their teams' pennant chances for 1959)

By AL LOPEZ

Chicago White Sox
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The biggest weakness shown by the Chicago White Sox was our inability to get started early in the season.

It wasn't until the first part of June that our pitching staff came around to the point where we could expect consistent well-pitched games day after day. In fact, from June 13th through the end of the season, we played .588 ball, winning 60 and losing 42 while the Yankees' record over the same period was 57 victories and 47 losses for a .548 percentage.

I believe we are definitely stronger with the addition of three outstanding rookies, all of whom figure in our 1959 plans. They are outfielder John Callison, a 19-year-old left handed hitter who joined us late in the season and hit .297 in 18 games, driving in 12 runs. This showing with us, as well as his season long play at Indianapolis where he hit .283 and led the league with 29 home runs, leads us to believe that he will be ready for major league competition in 1959.

The same goes for Barry Latman, a 22-year-old pitcher, who won three without a defeat for us, including a three hit shutout.

A third rookie who probably will make the team is catcher John Romano, 24. He was the outstanding catcher in the American Assn. with Indianapolis last year. He hit .291, drove in 89 runs and was second in home runs with 25.

We still feel we could use additional pitching help, especially of the left-handed variety, in the bullpen. However, Don Rudolph, who finished the season with us, and Rodolfo Arias, a Cuban southpaw, were both impressive in AAA competition last year and

Salem On Home Floor Tonight Against Akron St. Vincent's

Salem's Quakers will attempt to regain their mid-season stride tonight when they entertain Akron St. Vincent, a team that has won but three times in 14 games this season.

The Irish have two veterans back from last year's squad which lost to Salem here 62-40. They are 6-3 Joe Mackey and 6-0 Larry Mehok. Other starters are 6-0 John Mihalic, 5-10 John Koneff and 5-10 Ron Russell.

Salem, who has been averaging 46 per cent of their field goal attempts this year, were below par last Tuesday against Boardman hitting 38 per cent.

The Quakers will be after their 12th straight win and 15th in 16 games while at the same time trying to stretch their home win skein to nine.

Mackey is St. Vincent's top scorer with an 8-point average. The Irish are weak offensively averaging but 41.4 points a game. They play control ball and "wait" for a good shot. Last Tuesday they lost to Akron East 37-36. East (4-9) plays here Tuesday.

The Irish possess a 51.3 defensive mark.

The junior varsity game starts at 7:30 p.m.

Sears Leads Knicks Over Nats 111-98

By The Associated Press

The New York Knickerbockers are making like gnats to the Syracuse Nats in the National Basketball Assn. They have whipped the Nats nine straight and have virtual clinched second place for the Knicks in the Eastern Division.

The Knickerbockers downed the Nats 111-98 Thursday night in the first game of a doubleheader in Philadelphia. The home town Warriors beat the St. Louis Hawks 106-95 in the second game.

The third-period shooting of Ken Sears enabled New York to take a 6 1/2 game lead over the third-place Nationals. Sears had 11 of his team's 31 points.

The Warriors led the Hawks almost all the way to move to within two games of Syracuse. Paul Arizin paced Philadelphia with 24 points. Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan had 23 each for St. Louis.

Scholastic Loop To Begin Bowling At Saxon Lanes

The Saxon Lanes high school bowling league will begin Monday at 7 p.m., manager John Hendron announced today. Hendron says eight teams are expected to participate. He urged Salem High team players to get in touch with Jerry Hendron for arrangements while United Local players should contact Fred Vogelhuber for the same.

But he added that until a thorough test is made he would not want to comment on its national significance to the game. He said he considers pay TV still to be a matter left to the discretion of the individual clubs.

Jeffries Vital Factor

Freshmen's 4th Period Surge Beats Struthers Frosh 33-30

For the second straight game Gary Jeffries proved the vital factor for Sam Pridon's freshmen cage team as the young Quakers overcame a nine-point halftime deficit to defeat the Struthers frosh at Struthers Thursday 33-30 for their 12th win in 17 games.

Salem trailed 18-9 at the half and were behind 30-28 with one minute and 20 seconds to go. Jeffries drove in and scored on a layup to tie the score. He was fouled on the play and canned the charity toss to put his team in front 31-30. The Quakers then began freezing the ball when they retained possession. John Borrelli was fouled and with 22 seconds left calmly dropped in two foul shots to ice the game for Salem.

Three quick buckets at the outset of the third frame by Jeffries, Allen Ewing and Bob Eskay put Salem back in the game at 18-15 after trailing by nine.

Jeffries paced the winners with nine while Eskay had eight, John Panzotti five, Ted Thorne four, Ewing three and Borrelli and Greenfield two each.

The score was in Struthers favor 23-18 after three frames but Salem outpointed them 15-7 in the last quarter to garner their victory.

Salem made 11 of 41 shots for 27 per cent while the young Wildcats hit on 11 of 34 for 32 per cent.

Salem made 11 of 16 foul shots and the losers 8 of 14.

The young Quakers have three home games next week against Beaver Local Monday, East Palestine Wednesday and East Liverpool Thursday.

All games are played at the junior high gym and start at 4 p.m.

Church Games Moved to Gym In Junior High

Assistant Memorial Building manager John Dawson reported today that games in the Class C and Class D church leagues will be played the next three Saturdays at the junior high school gym instead of at Fourth St. Dawson said the games were shifted because the Fourth St. gym floor is being repaired. Games will start at the same times, he said.

Dawson also reported that no more applicants will be received for the Wednesday afternoon girls' tumbling class. He said 21 girls are enrolled which already is more than what was expected.

The class meets weekly from 4:30 to 6:30 and is taught by Mrs. John Dawson.

The class will hold a demonstration on tumbling for local parents sometime in the future. Any more future applicants will offset practices already undergone by the present class, he added.

United Boosters Plan Talent Show Saturday Night

The United Boosters Club has three featured athletic events coming up within the next two months. Tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. the club will hold a Talent and Variety Show in the high school gym.

On Thursday of next week at 7:30 p.m. they will sponsor a basketball game between the ladies of the faculty and a leading area ladies team. A second game that night will feature the United freshmen against another area freshman team.

The annual Boosters independent cage tourney will be held March 30 to April 4.

JOHNNY BUSO PREPS
For Crack at Title
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown took it easy today, but challenger Johnny Buso scheduled a second brist workout in as many days.

The pair meet in a title fight here next Wednesday night.

Buso worked five rounds Thursday against Ray Portilla. Brown was in the ring four rounds with Candy McFarland.

Brown's manager, Bill Gore, said the champion would be back in the ring again Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Larue Is Named Coach
At Arizona University
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The University of Arizona today pinned its hopes for an improved football program on a virtually untied coach.

Jim Larue, 34, was named Thursday to his first head coaching job and given the task of rebuilding Arizona's gridiron fortunes. He is former backfield coach at Southern Methodist.

Larue is the fifth head football coach at Arizona in the last 12 years and the 19th in the school's 59-year football history. He succeeds Ed Doherty, who resigned two weeks ago after two losing seasons.

Airplane Model Club Plan 1959 Activities

Plans were made to develop their model airport on Rt. 165 when the Quaker Eagles Model Club met on Wednesday night at the V&F Hobby Shop on the Damascus Road. Twenty-one were present.

Gayle Paxson presided at the gathering in which the club discussed having both indoor and outdoor model airplane contests this year.

Paxson named a few committees to investigate these possibilities.

Club member Fred Birkhimer reported the many interested boys were present Wednesday that are not members in the club. He said all persons interested are invited to the club's next meeting on Feb. 18 at the V&F Hobby Shop.

Three new members were initiated. They were John Sweet, Jack Sweet and Bob Boyd.

COLUMBIANA

Officers Are Elected
By Music Study Club

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Lee Bricker was elected president of the Columbiana Music Study Club at its meeting Wednesday night, succeeding Mrs. John Fitzpatrick.

Other new officers are Mrs. George Seederly, vice president; Mrs. William Lodge, secretary and Mrs. Wilder Foertch, treasurer.

The new program committee, headed by Mrs. Fred Detwiler, includes Mrs. James Hinerman and Mrs. Russell Lamomcha. This week's program featured a vocal trio of Mrs. Robert Maurer, Mrs. Bricker and Mrs. Seederly, accompanied by Mrs. Gormley; vocal solos by Mrs. Lamomcha and Mrs. A. A. Anderson, and piano selections by Mrs. E. Gordon Warner and Mrs. Raymond Mackall.

MAYOR E. L. CALVIN's report of cash transactions by his office during January shows a total of $202.85 paid into the village treasury from the following sources: Mayor's Court, local fines, forfeitures and costs, $81.10; town's 55 per cent share of State Patrol case fines and forfeitures, $74.25; all costs from Patrol and state code cases, $51.70; ticket book fines and 5-cent parking meter fines, $13.80; sale of village map, $2.

In addition, $60.75 was sent to the state treasurer as the remaining 45 per cent of State Patrol fines and forfeitures.

A "SWEETHEART DANCE" will be sponsored Saturday night at Arrowhead Lake by the Women's Auxiliary of York-Drexler Post 5532, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The public is invited to the dance. Chuck Adams' orchestra will play. Charter members will be honored when Columbiana Chapter 428, Order of Eastern Star, observes its 39th anniversary during a stated meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 10, in the lodge hall. Members of the Leetonia O.E.S. mother chapter, have been invited. A special program of entertainment will follow the business meeting.

Past Noble Grands Club of Pandora Rebekah Lodge will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 9, in the lodge room.

The village sewage treatment plant passed with ease a recent inspection by the State Department of Health. In a letter to the Board of public affairs, reporting on the Jan. 8 inspection, the department commented that "maintenance and operation of plant facilities appeared to be very good."

Governor to Address Ohio's Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Legislators will hear a message from the governor next week, probably Tuesday, on why he thinks capital punishment should be abolished in Ohio.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told a news conference Thursday that his message will propose substituting life imprisonment for death in the electric chair.

The governor said he is against a resolution offered in the Senate this week to submit to the people a proposed constitutional amendment to ban capital punishment. He said he believes the change in law can be done by legislation.

DiSalle expects to discuss a fair employment practices law with legislative leaders Tuesday. A bill to create a Fair Employment Practices Commission has already been introduced in the Legislature.

Today, the governor meets with his Cabinet and will present figures showing an increase of about 30 per cent in the number of state employees and about 18 per cent in state payrolls since 1955.

DiSalle said figures compiled by his finance director show that in 1955 there were 29,040 state workers being paid at the rate of 92 million dollars a year. Last year, he said, there were 35,070 employees drawing 121 million dollars a year.

The governor said his report does not include employees in state universities or those in the bureau of unemployment compensation. DiSalle has turned down invitations to make Jefferson-Jackson Day speeches in New Jersey and Wisconsin, in keeping with his promise to stay close to his job for the first six months.

As far as he knows, he will attend the national governors' conference Aug. 2-5 in Puerto Rico.

23 WALK OFF JOBS

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The tire curing department of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s No. 2 plant was idled Thursday night when 23 employees walked off their jobs. The workers walked out after a curing press operator was suspended by the company. Officials of the United Rubber Workers Union, who urged the men to return to work, met with company representatives to discuss the dispute.

MEETING NIGHT CHANGED

The Beaver Local Booster Club will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the high school instead of Tuesday as scheduled because of a basketball game, George Wilkinson, president, said. Movies will be screened.

Leetonia To Vote On Operating Levy May 5

LEETONIA — Voters here will go to the polls May 5 to ballot on a proposed 4-mill levy for current municipal expenses.

The proposition is made up of a renewal of an expiring 1.6-mill levy and an increase of 2.4 mills. Candidates for office will automatically receive certificates of nomination because no contests exist on either ticket. Although the primary will be bypassed as far as candidates go, voters will ballot on the special issue, however.

"I Chose You," will be the sermon subject by the Rev. William L. Woodall, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

A family night coverdish dinner will be held in the church at 6 p.m. followed by a film entitled, "The Long Stride."

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry B. Willard of Jamestown, N.C., are the parents of a son, born Thursday, Feb. 5. Mrs. Willard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Tittler of High Point, N.C., former residents of Leetonia. Mrs. Harry Tittler of Leetonia is the great-grandmother.

All Girl Scout Troop committee members and leaders are urged to attend a meeting at the home of Mrs. James Hall, Columbia St. Ext., Monday, 9 to 8 p.m. Plans will be made for the cookie selling program and the mother-daughter banquet.

INCREASE REPORTED
CLEVELAND (AP) — Department store sales in greater Cleveland last week were eight per cent above the comparable 1958 week, the federal reserve bank of Cleveland reports. The largest year-to-year gains in the Federal Reserve District were reported in Lexington, Ky., 44 per cent, and Canton, 27 per cent.

Snow flurries flecked the Appalachians, and light snow and flurries fell in the Great Lakes region from northern Indiana northward through northern Michigan. The snow cover at Houghton, Mich., was 46 inches.

Light snow also was reported in the northern Rockies, adding one inch to the 37 inches already on the ground at West Yellowstone, Mont.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast
Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 35 north, 42 south. Normal low 19 north, 24 south. Warmer Saturday, colder Sunday or Monday and little temperature change Tuesday and Wednesday. Rain or snow Saturday night or Sunday and again Monday or Tuesday.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Meese, 45, of Sandusky, a Lake Terminal brakeman, was found Thursday beneath a railroad car on a bridge spanning Black River. Both legs were crushed, apparently by the wheels of the car. His legs were amputated at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Former Little Rock Official Eyes Texas Job

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Virgil T. Blossom, former superintendent of schools at Little Rock, Ark., as been interviewed for the job of school superintendent in the suburbs here.

H. M. Tomerlin, president of trustees for the Northeast Independent School District, said he did not expect the board to reach a final decision on a superintendent before April 1.
